- Global quality education spanning decades
- Excellent faculty and resources
- International collaborations with premium global universities for academic and research activities
- Liberal merit-based scholarships
- Site visits and study tours
- Studio based hands-on learning

Faculty
All our faculty members are licensed architects with affiliations and memberships to a number of professional bodies, both national and international. Most of them have at least one specialization at the Masters level, and some of them hold degrees. SSAA has a good mix of young and senior faculty members providing the students a diverse range of ideas. The insight provided by visiting faculty including a number of leading design professionals and academics, is one of the reasons that SSAA graduates walk out as ‘market ready’. Our Faculty members are Industry practitioners from premier institutions like Texas A&M University, University of Nottingham, University of Pennsylvania, Cardiff University and University of Valencia.

Since its inception, SSAA demonstrated its concern for environmental issues, its commitment to cultural practices and its connectivity with the evolving industry; these priorities are intrinsic to the School’s academic thought and process. As an integral part of Anna University, SSAA is globally connected and has the requisite international perspective on higher education that is both a national and an individual aspiration of young India.” Prof. Tapun Chakravarty (Dean SSSA).
